BIOGRAPHY

James Paterson is an artist, animator and programmer whose drawing and software works are grown from a decade-long diaristic process. In his work, accumulated libraries of imagery rooted in daily experience revolve around the subjects of digestion, sex, self-critique and skateboarding. Using ink and programming as primary tools, James Paterson continually cycles through meditations on the everyday.

The subject of a solo exhibition in 2008 at the Museo Tamayo, Mexico City, Paterson recently has been collaborating on performances with choreographer Dana Gingras and the Holy Body Tattoo Dance Company. Seen last year at the Monument-National/Studio Hydro-Quebec, past exhibitions of Paterson's work also include the Centre Pompidou, Paris; Museum of Contemporary Art, Taipei; Institute of Contemporary Art, London; Seoul Museum of Art, Korea; The Block Museum, Northwestern University; Israel Museum, Jerusalem; GGG Gallery, Tokyo; Kunsthalle Wien, Austria; Centro de Cultura Contemporanea de Barcelona; London Design Museum; Beurs van Berlage, Amsterdam, Decordova Museum; Seoul International Art Biennale; Kunstlerhaus Wien; Muvim in Valencia, Spain; bitforms gallery, Seoul; Ars Electronica, Linz; HERE, New York; Alfred University and the Flash Film Festival.
